	Cattle are well handled and easy to work with. An odd heifer wanted to rush between pens but quickly settled once in larger yard.

Assessor Comments	A good line of Angus heifers. The Roche family have been breeding high quality Angus cattle for many years and these heifers are a mix of both purchased and vendor bred cattle. These heifers are currently showing the effects of a long wet winter but are on the improve and have had all necessary health treatments. They are of high enough quality to top up for joining. Alternatively, these heifers would be ideal to feed or put on the crop. The heifers show good frame and type and will grow out to meet your desired markets with ease. NB: Heifers were noted to have been rubbing but have been treated(see photos)
