	heifers and calves generally good to handle
Handled With	Bikes , Dogs , Horses

Assessor Comments	A very nice line of first calf heifers that have not been rejoined. Heifers are well grown for their age. Heifers show good length of body and depth and given the right opportunity will mature into very nice females. Heifers have all calved over a short period allowing ample time to rejoin up into the desired calving pattern for the purchaser. Heifers present in forwar store condition and are milking very well which is evident in the fresh calves they have on them. Calves are sired by the Angus bull selected for fast growth rates, calves show good shape and are having a good start on mum given the season. Heifers were very good to handle at assessment and would suit the smaller producer or some one looking to increase female numbers
