Generally a quiet mob, however 5 did show a larger pressure zone than the others. They put their heads up quicker than the others and tried to move away, causing the rest of the mob to move. At no point did any of them show any vice. They move typical of the breed.

Assessor Comments This line of cows have calved down well and look to be doing a great job on their calves. Calves are sired by the Bongongo Angus bull. Given plenty of feed, these Medium to Large frame Droughtmaster X cows will rear very good vealers. The calves were not marked due to the fact we didnt want to stress them prior to transport. The calves are 1 - 7 weeks old.
