| Vendor Comments        | We would normally hold the Wethers and shear them once or twice more and sell as hoggets, we are wanting to run more ewes therefore the Wether lambs are to be sold.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |            |                |     |

| Assessor Comments      | 245 shorn store Wether merino lambs 27-49kg at assessment to avg 34.4kg at delivery. Well bred good fresh late May-June drop lambs ready to see some sun and preform over the summer. The lambs have had the animal health to move forward with confidence and as mentioned are usually kept and taken out to a mature age cutting stylish wool while growing out to hit that 28-32kg dressed weight as mature wethers The lambs would really suite those cut hay paddocks or cropping stubbles with easy care to set and forget |            |                |     |
