| Vendor Comments              | These have been very productive sheep, with the Hazeldean bloodline ewes cutting a big fleece of bright white wool and raring a very good lamb. Dispersing all Merino sheep as cutting back on ewe numbers to increase cropping area.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |            |                          |

| Assessor Comments            | These Merino ewe lambs are part of the entire drop of Merino ewe lambs being sold. These are breeder sheep and part of a complete dispersal of all the Merino sheep on the property. They are OJD vaccinated and have been well mulesed. They are Hazeldean & Goolgumbra blood with selected rams purchased out of Hazeldean ram sale at Cooma each year. These sheep are renowned for being very fertile, and heavy wool cutters of very bright white wool in the medium micron range. They will grow on to be excellent breeder sheep for the successful purchaser. |            |                          |
