	ows handled through the yards well when worked calmly and with good distance tho have the potential to fizz up if worked incorrectly and in high pressure areas, 1 cow became aggressive and protective of her calf when being mothered on foot. All cows where mothered on foot and worked well with the odd cow becoming stirry when cut out of the mob, settled back down when put with other cattle. Cows went through the race and crush well when being weighed with most standing calmly in crush.
