These steers are a real treat to handle and draft in the yards. The steers that were stirry & slightly stirry in the crush and yards were mainly the steers that had been taken off their mothers today for assessment, this was from being isolated in the forcing yard head bale or asked to stand on the platform for too long. Once back in the main mob they calmed down quickly. Steers were very quiet while walking through taking photos and very easy to move from yard to yard.

Handled With	Aerial (Helicopters, gyro's and planes) , Bikes , Dogs , Horses , On foot
Assessor Comments	Buyers an opportunity to purchase a mob of back grounder steers to take onto feeder weights or grow out to bullocks. These steers are showing good growth & weight for age. These steers will go forward on good feed. These steers are very good to handle, a lot of time has been put into the weaning and handling process of these steers both the weaned and unweaned. Buyers please note the horned cattle are only young growth horns. Buyers please note 12 steers with brindle coats, 2 steers with white necks, 4 steers with white under their bellys, 2 steers with broken white face. 5 steers with fly bites on neck & head, 1 steer with ringworms not expected to be any issue.
