Very fractious females that did not like being drafted off from their friends on their own, and were very unappreciative about being weighed & mouthed. These Heifers should be added to part of a larger mob so they can settle down. They are not suitable for a small holding operation or hobby farm.

Handled With	Bikes , On foot , Vehicles
Assessor Comments	Although their temperament is less than ideal, these females do bring some very positives genetics with them. Having been bred and joined with a key focus on IMF and carcase quality. They are very protective mothers and are doing a good job with their young calves. Heifers that would be best suited to adding to part of a larger herd. Note. One Heifer has a small blemish in one eye, and a blue scar in the other. Vision is fine. Not deemed detrimental. Please see photos.
