Handled With	Manners and nature is second to none. Lovely, quiet females, solely handled by an 80 year old lady - Couldn't fault them. On foot , Vehicles
Assessor Comments	The Frankenberg family were founding members of the Australian Red Angus society, and started their Red Angus stud "Moorwartha Red Angus" back in 1968. After over 50 years breeding and showing outstanding Red Angus cattle, the stud was recently sold as a whole, and the Frankenberg's now just run a small commercial herd to maintain an interest during their well earned retirement. These impressive young heifers are an outstanding example of their breed. With over 50 years of selected genetics in their pedigree, these Heifers have it all. Structure, temperament & genetics is absolutely spot on. Cattle that would surely impress the most discerning Red Angus enthusiast. Although only a small mob, these young quiet females would be perfect for a hobby farmer wanting some 'A' grade breeders, or a farmer wanting to increase their numbers with cattle that would improve most herds. Note. 1 small splash of white on udder. Please see photos & videos.
