|                    | Cows are quite fractious in the yards, reluctant to stand still and then rushing through gate ways. A redeeming quality was that they did all self feed through the race and all walked on the shiny scales without needing excess pressure. Majority of cows were very anxious in the crush though, jumping around somewhat. 1 Cow only showed bluff, but dropped her head whilst running passed and was bellowing in the crush whilst jumping around. Further education required.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                         |                             |

| Assessor Comments  | Big framed roomy matrons, with the breeding & all the potential to fill back out to their 750kg+ former selves with some fresh pastures underneath them. Most still in their working clothes after having weaners pulled off them just 3 weeks ago. Very good genetic history, being Mundoora Pastoral born & bred, carrying years of select Glen Trevor Hereford genetics. These big females have the potential to produce 400kg+ 12 month old weaners, as they have so many times in the past. Carrying a red baldy calf on board, by Hicks Red Angus sire, due around the start of September. Good females to take on, calves down and do a store cow job with, or re-join to the Hereford bulls and produce some future breeders. Note. 2 Cows noted with an eye blemish, not deemed detrimental.
