Free flowing cattle. Best handled with a quiet approach. Not much pressure needing to be applied. Dogs have not been used to muster since calving. Tag 77 is a protective mother and can get agitated if confined. Was not like this before calving.

Handled With: Bikes , Dogs , Horses , On foot , Vehicles

Assessor Comments: Lifetime traceable/one mark Angus cows ex Abingdon Station, Nangus, NSW. Crawford, Bongongo and Ireland Angus blood. These cows belong to the top of the drop heifers from Abingdon Station, no heifers were retained that year. Front paddock types, great length, width and depth of body, with volume and capacity. Plenty of breeding behind them. Calves at foot sired by Coolie Angus Bulls. The calves present in excellent order and are ready to bounce away come the spring. Units of this quality don't always come on the market. The vendor has put the property up for sale. These are genuine top quality breeders. The cows have their first calves at foot, all calved unassisted. They went in calf at the first and only opportunity as maiden heifers. They have not been re-joined or had any opportunity as the vendor was going to put them in a spring calving program. 2 cows observed with clouding in a single eye. Some calves starting to get some ringworm, not all affected at time of assessment.
