The heifers will respond to the owners call when he drives the ute and often feeds out small portions of Lucerne in the paddock where the cattle are very placid. Once yarded the heifers are good to handle with only a handful stirring while in the crush but settled well when returning to the mob.

Handled With	Bikes , Low stress handling practices
Assessor Comments	A small line of predominantly Angus heifers that have been weaned and will offer potential buyers good compensatory weight gains. These heifers have been running on lighter mountain country and are ideal for anyone with excess spring feed or someone with a small holding or hobby farm. Please Note Vendor has several lots in the sale.
